resulting from integrated base rails that are actually a part of the cap mold - unlike the competition, that utilizes a separate base that is simply glued to the cap.

The 2000

Known for its aggressive good looks, the 2000 offers cab height with a subtle crown to the roof, casting a sporty image for the owner's vehicle. Bolt on the optional ladder racks for that true SUV function and appeal.

The Cab High

Classical SUV look combined with cab height gives those tough 4 x 4 trucks a more civilized appeal. The Cab High is perfect for the no nonsense truck owner that wants a streamlined look and the benefits of lockable storage.

The Executive

The King of all Caps. The Executive boasts a full seven to nine inches of additional cab height depending on the model of truck. It offers a rear window that is seven inches taller than the cab. Great accessibility, you'll love the additional head room!

The Maverick

A perfect match of function and style. The Maverick provides an additional four inches of height along the entire bed of the truck offering easier access. The top front three inches are angled to diminish wind noise and increase fuel economy. For a cap that has great style and provides the benefits of above cab height, the Maverick is a great choice!

The Construction

This is One Tough Unit!

This exciting NEW model has limitless possibilities and can be custom ordered to fit your needs! If you are in construction and desire a cap suited to the rigors of heavy-duty use, but don't want a cheap looking aluminum cap on your expensive new truck, then this unit is for you. It comes color matched to your vehicle and it is solid fiberglass to take the abuse, without the common dings and dents of aluminum. The side access doors are oversized with a painted fiberglass outer shell combined with a durable backing plate to further add to the rigidity of the door.

The shelves can be carpeted and have independent 12volt lighting. A fisherman or hunter could easily install a fishing rod holder or gun rack in the shelf bay. Check one out today and explore the possibilities!
